

Hello Probability Students-

PLEASE READ THIS ENTIRE EMAIL! There is a lot of important information below.

My name is Dr. Mark Snavelly - welcome to Probability! You can call me Dr. Snavelly, Professor Snavelly, Mr. Snavelly, even Mark is OK - something beyond Hey You is preferred.

Our first class is on Tuesday, September 7, and we will meet in person! Masks are required in all buildings on campus, so please wear an appropriate face covering.

Before our first class meeting, please view the welcome video at the top of our course website, the video on flipped classrooms, and review Carthage's COVID policies. You can find a link to the course website on the Schoology page for this course.

I will be live streaming all of our classes. If you miss class or cannot attend for some reason, no worries! A recording of the class will be on the Help Page of the course website.

The textbook for our class, Introduction to Probability, is available in pdf format on the Help Page of our course website. You can use this until you can get a print copy, or just use the pdf as your text. There are also quite a few probability books that you may use as a resource.

If you have trouble with Schoology, please feel free to email me.

I look forward to meeting you soon! If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to ask. (PLEASE ASK! I promise - I won't think you're silly.)

Dr. Snavelly
